

Position: Lecturer in Finance

The Department of Management Sciences invites applications from qualified and motivated candidates for the position of Lecturer in Finance.

Qualifications & Requirements

- MS or equivalent degree (18 years of education) in Finance or a closely related field from an HEC recognized university or institution.
- Candidates with academic backgrounds in Finance, Banking & Finance, Financial Management, Accounting & Finance, Islamic Banking & Finance may apply.
- Preference will particularly be given to candidates having teaching experience in statistical and quantitative subjects, including Business Statistics, Statistics for Management, Quantitative Methods, Business Mathematics, Econometrics, Financial Modelling, or related courses.
- Candidates should possess strong analytical, quantitative, communication, teaching, and research skills.
- Relevant professional qualifications, research publications, industry experience, or professional exposure in Finance will be considered an advantage.

Key Responsibilities

- Teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in Finance and related areas.
- Teaching statistical, quantitative, and analytical courses as required by the Department.
- Developing and delivering Outcome Based Education (OBE) aligned course content, assessments, and learning activities.
- Advising and supporting students in their academic and professional development.
- Participating in departmental academic activities, curriculum development, research, and other responsibilities assigned by the Department.